Note

This book is published by the Town of Swampscott in accordance with a vote of the adjourned Annual Town Meeting of April 2, 1919. The editorial work has been done by the Honor Roll Book Committee of the Victory Celebration Committee.

The purpose of the volume is to give the records of the men and women of Swampscott who were in the Military, Naval or Marine service of the United States or her Allies during the World War.

From the beginning the committee has realized that the value of a book of this nature depends upon its accuracy. To secure this the facts relating to each person were obtained, so far as possible, from official discharge papers. When these were not available it was necessary to secure the information from the individuals, and in some cases, from the War and Navy Departments at Washington or from the Commonwealth, through the Adjutant-General. In a few cases no information whatever could be found, and the Committee could only insert the names.

FOREWORD

N APRIL 6, 1917, Congress declared war upon Germany. Immediately, the young men and women of Swampscott responded, and very shortly this town was represented in every branch of the service.

The regiments in which many first enlisted camped at Lynnfield, Framingham and Boxford. While there we enjoyed their presence. It is pleasing now to recall those days but it was not altogether a happy experience then to visit the camps. We felt ourselves in a solemn and serious atmosphere. We realized that we were in a struggle that was agitating the world and the indefiniteness of everything was awe-inspiring. We saw at these camps men who had quit their peaceful vocations, knowing that they must encounter the sufferings and hardships of war. They, however, were not concerned about this. They were there as soldiers of the United States, answering the call of their country.

Before we realized it, they had left, and we anxiously awaited information as to their whereabouts. The speed of their departure was due to the imperative needs of the Allies. They had been defending against the drives of the enemy for a long time, and were tired. The only untouched reservoir of man power was this country.

Other men from the town had enlisted in other organizations, and the same haste in preparing them for overseas was manifested. Many enlisted in the navy, a branch of the service so necessary in protecting our troops from attacks of the submarines. Others entered technical branches of the service, assisting wonderfully in supporting the men at the front. Congress had passed the Selective Service Law, and Local and District Boards were established to make it effective. These agencies were likewise busy. A Committee on Public Safety was appointed, the members of which actively encouraged and intelligently directed every patriotic effort. Parents who had sons in the service were justly proud. They were not, however, content with this, but were busily engaged in making them and other boys happy, and at the same time were aiding their country by liberal subscriptions to Liberty Loans and other patriotic drives.

Nor were the women of Swampscott idle. Several enrolled as army nurses, one making the supreme sacrifice. Scores of others, under the direction of the Red Cross, were doing their utmost to make the men in the service comfortable, and at the same time were inspiring those at home by their willing efforts. Even before we declared war, many Swampscott boys had enlisted in the English, Canadian and Italian armies. These were the pioneers. Swampscott claims them as her sons, and while they did not fight under the flag of this country they, nevertheless, assisted in overcoming her enemies. It can truthfully be said that the whole town was mobilized, working for the accomplishment of one purpose, the winning of the war.

This is not the place to recount individual deeds of heroism. It is sufficient to state that in all the great conflicts of the summer and autumn of 1918

Swampscott was represented. For examples of patriotism and bravery it is no longer necessary to recur to Lexington and Concord; they can be found in Chateau Thierry, Argonne Forest and St. Mihiel. We cannot read an account of the momentous struggles at these places nor listen to a description of them without being deeply stirred.

From this peaceful community five hundred rallied to the colors. This is, indeed, a splendid record. Whether they entered the service as volunteers or were inducted through the Local Board, the same spirit was manifested. Those who went across endured, without a murmur, the hardships incident to foreign service. Those who remained trained intensively, anxiously awaiting the call.

The strife is over, and we have experienced the happiness of seeing our men return. We are deeply thankful for their sacrifices. They have now modestly resumed their positions in civil life. But some are absent; they have answered the last roll-call. How can we express to their parents and kindred our sympathy and gratitude? While we rejoice, they are in tears, filled with tender memories of their loved ones. Let us not stay their grief; in it is mingled the noble feeling that to them was vouchsafed this great honor. For their heroic dead, no eulogium is necessary; they offered up their lives in a righteous cause, with the spirit of true patriots.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

—Col. John McCrae

This poem was written while the second battle of Ypres was in progress. The author's body now lies buried in Flanders fields.

World War Veterans of Swampscott:

In February, 1919, the Honor Roll Book Committee was appointed by vote of the Victory Celebration Committee.

For nearly three years we have been engaged in the difficult but interesting task of compiling a military history of our soldiers and sailors. After careful study and examination of all available information, requiring over one hundred meetings of the committee, we realize that some errors or omissions may be found; in fact, the official records are not always correct. However, this is to be expected in papers prepared under the stress of war conditions.

One name has been brought to our attention which does not appear in the book, and we are giving it herewith: —

EDWARD JOSEPH DAVENPORT Private

Infantry, American Expeditionary Force, October, 1917, to December, 1918, 26th Division, 104th Regiment, Company L. Enlisted June 4, 1917; discharged January 31, 1919. Chemin des Dames, Toul, Chateau-Thierry, St. Mihiel and Verdun.

Should any other record have been omitted, or errors be found, the Committee has arranged to have suitable corrections printed, in the form of an insert, which will be sent to each holder of the book as a part of the permanent record.

In concluding their duties, the Honor Roll Book Committee desire to express the great pleasure which has been theirs in thus perpetuating your records for future generations.

You have served your country and your town with honor during the greatest of all Wars, and we, on behalf of the citizens of Swampscott, now present this book as a token of gratitude, not only to those who are living, but also in memory of the heroic dead.
